Deleting your account

Account · https://help.fansyme.com/docs/account/deleting-your-account/

This post is also available in: Deutsch (German)

To delete your account, go to Account Settings and select "Delete Account". However, please note the following rules:

- Your account will be marked as "pending deletion" until manual action is taken by the admin after reviewing all information
- All images and videos will remain accessible until the last subscription runs out
- Subscriptions of existing customers will not renew; they will be cancelled
- No new subscriptions are allowed
- Remaining Payouts will only be released by the admin manually
- An email confirmation will be sent upon the successful deletion of your account
- Users have the option to cancel the "Deletion Request" or simply become active again by posting something

Please be aware that once deleted, your account cannot be restored, and you will lose your followers and chats. For more information please check our terms of services here.
