Live Stream Tokens Explained

Streaming & Lovense · https://help.fansyme.com/docs/live/tokens-in-live-streams/

This post is also available in: Deutsch (German)

FansyMe uses Tokens in live streams to power tipping and interactive features. Live Stream Tokens create a simple, transparent and consistent way for fans to support creators during broadcasts.

How Much Is 1 Token Worth on FansyMe?

FansyMe offers a 70% creator revenue share on live stream Tokens. If you are wondering “How much is a FansyMe Token worth?”, here is the full breakdown:

For fans:

1 Token = $0.0715 USD

For creators:

1 Token = $0.05 USD earned per Token.

Example of Live Stream Token Earnings

If a fan sends 300 Tokens during a live stream:

The fan pays $21.45
The creator earns $15.00

Using Tokens instead of multiple currencies also simplifies the experience for international fans joining live streams from different countries.

Why Does FansyMe Use a Token System?

The FansyMe Token system helps:

• simplify live stream tipping
• make earnings easy to calculate
• create engaging live stream goals
• provide transparent creator payouts
• improve the overall live streaming experience

Tokens are simply a clear digital unit used for live stream interaction.

Frequently Asked Questions About Live Stream Tokens

Does the revenue share change?

No. The live streaming revenue share remains 70%.

Are Tokens only used for live streaming?

Yes. Tokens are used for live stream tipping and interactive features.

Where can I see my USD earnings?

Creators can always see their earnings in USD inside their dashboard.

If you have any further questions about FansyMe Live Stream Tokens, revenue share or creator payouts, please contact Support.